Admission of Students to Programs in Which Licensure is Dependent Upon Accreditation

Whenever licensing is tied to the accreditation of a program, such program will not admit students until candidacy is approved and the chance for potential accreditation is substantial, as recommended by an external consultant.