Summary of Open Discussion:

Mrs. Araina Mickens started off the discussion focusing on the important of recovery and having the programs, support systems, and resources needed for our family and friends who are struggling to succeed. All of the attendees contributed to the conversation, discussing their own struggles with recovery, or having to watch and advocate for family and friends who needed the help. We found that in this area we have shared experiences and participants shared how free they felt to discuss their own personal struggles. We discussed taking judgment away from recovery and mental illness. Some participants discussed the lack of empathy that they received which in turn caused them to shut themselves off from family/friends. Attendees shared tools/resources that worked for them and expressed how much they enjoyed the open forum. The vice president of The South Suburban Council (a substance abuse, mental health, and recovery home provider) joined our call and shared the services and tools that her organization offered. Through conversation we were able to connect 4 of our PLE's to the organization, and one of them was offered a position within the organization.
