ROSC Council Mission Statement

The ROSC Council is a coalition of community stakeholders and interested parties that meet regularly with an intention to identify current community resources or providers for recovery adjacent services, also to identify gaps in the continuum of care. The ROSC seeks to coordinate providers and services to help prevent service duplication and to utilize all our community providers and resources to the maximum benefit of people seeking recovery from substance use disorder. Ideally, the group collaboration will evolve into a standing and sustainable organization that provides support and services for people in addiction and behavioral health recovery.

ROSC Council Vision and Values

In the case of the Ogle/DeKalb County ROSC, we already have such an entity in Sauk Valley Voices of Recovery. In our case, the ROSC can assist SVVOR in focusing their efforts as well as helping new groups and organizations develop and grow. The ROSC Council is open to all community organizations including the legal, educational, spiritual, recreational, law enforcement and health care systems. Along with the Recovery Community Organization (RCO), the ROSC Council will encourage community partnerships and collaborations and work to reduce stigma. The ROSC Councils seeks to be inclusive, equitable, diverse and its core focus is helping all people become a part of, rather than apart from their respective communities, to establish a greater future for all.

Key Working Definitions

- ROSC (Recovery Oriented System of Care): A Recovery Oriented Systems of Care (ROSC) is a coordinated network of community-based services and supports that is person-centered and builds on the strengths and resilience of individuals, families, and communities to experience recovery and improved health, wellness, and quality of life for those with or at risk of substance use and/or -co-occurring conditions. The central focus of a ROSC is to create an infrastructure, or "systems of care", with the resources to effectively address the full range of substance use and/or co-occurring disorders within communities.
- Recovery: “Recovery for a person with substance use disorder is the internal process of change that results in living honestly, with serenity and self-respect, in harmony with others, while fulfilling one’s responsibilities.”
- Addiction: “Addiction is a primary chronic disease of the brain reward, motivation, memory and related circuitry. Dysfunction in these circuits leads to characteristic biological, psychological, social and spiritual manifestations. This is reflected in an individual pathologically pursuing reward and/or relief by substance use and other behaviors.” ASAM (American Society of Addiction Medicine)
- Multiple Pathways: Various organizations, communities, and programs that promote an active lifestyle through fitness, connection to nature through outdoor activities, creative projects and more, in coordination with community-building to help people on their path to sustained recovery.
