Government subsidized housing is for low income families and/or elderly or disabled persons. Renting an apartment is not much different from renting a home elsewhere. You are responsible for paying your rent, maintaining your premises, and conforming to the usual rules of sanitation, decency and consideration for the rights of your neighbors.

The Transitional Housing Program is a supportive housing program for homeless families. Participants are provided a subsidized transitional housing unit to live in while they actively work on goals that will make them self-sufficient. Target areas include income, employment, education, transportation, child care, health and housing. The ultimate goal of the program is for families to be able to obtain and remain in affordable permanent housing. The Rental Housing Support Program is a rent subsidy program, similar to the HUD voucher program, that targets extremely low-income renters.
