

Jan Figa, Ph.D, MSLIS, has been the Dean of the Library at Governors State University since June 16, 2023. His extensive and versatile administrative library experience includes private liberal arts colleges, community colleges, vocational colleges, R1 & R2 universities, and one public library. He judiciously uses his science background in soil and fluid mechanics from the University of Oxford and UIUC, respectively, as a guide in design thinking to create purposeful and engaging library spaces. His goals for the library include transforming it into a multipurpose destination (built on the CORNERSTONES principle), fostering community involvement, removing resource barriers, and creating a high-tech and high-touch environment. His research interests broadly belong to STEAM, Digital Humanities, and Educational Reform areas.
