

Dr. Candace Smith Ed. D. is an Assistant Professor of Early Childhood Education at Governors State University with over 22 years of experience as an educator and leader. She is passionate about lifelong learning, including exploring new ideas in nutrition and wellness. An advocate for movement and balance, Candace stays active through weightlifting, functional fitness, yoga, and long walks—always ready to try something new that challenges both body and mind.