

Internship Resource Guide

The following websites will get you started on internship information.

<https://govst-csm.symplicity.com/>

Career Services has established this website for students to post their resume and look for job vacancies from prospective employers. Students must obtain a serial user identification number from our office in order to register at this site.

<https://www.monster.com/student-career-center/>

Excellent website. Students can go online to post a resume and search for a variety of jobs and internships throughout the country.

www.summerjobs.com

Students can use this site to find a great seasonal job both locally and abroad, in addition to gaining the experience of living somewhere else in the country or the world.

<http://www.idealists.org/>

Worldwide information about non-profit organizations includes the services that are provided and volunteer and internship openings that are available.

<http://www.internjobs.com/>

This website provides opportunities for both employers to post prospective jobs and students to post their resumes. Also, many articles and resources on internship topics are available.

<http://www.findinternships.com/>

FindInternships.com is a comprehensive online database of active internships and co-op programs. The site was created to help students find relevant opportunities for the summer, fall, winter, and spring seasons. The site also helps students better understand what an internship is, why they should have one, and how to apply for one. The site is 100% free to use.